MOSCOW PLANE FLIES OVER BRITISH COLUMBIA

Foreigners Leave Peiping Battle Area Ministers Moving Nationals as Chinese Fight Japan Troops

Force of Japanese Driven
From Peiping Wall After
Two Hours of Battling.

Trains Carry Many
Japanese to Tientsin

SHANGHAI (CP-Havas)—The Chinese government Wednesday morning requested all foreign diplomatic representatives to order their nationals to evacuate Peiping.

PEIPING, China (AP)—Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan's 29th Chinese Route Army Tuesday forced a detachment of Japanese troops to retreat toward their Fengtai base after they had been driven back on Peiping's southern wall in two hours of hand-to-hand fighting.

The Japanese formed one of the advance units of a reported 10,000 force being dispatched to the North China battle area from Manchukuo.

Reliable foreign sources declared 100 Japanese war planes flew over Shanhaikwan, on the border of Manchukuo and Kopeh province, en route to the scene of action.

The Japanese detachment was advancing on the Nanyuan air-drome and barracks, eight miles south of Peiping, where it was met half way by Chinese troops and gradually driven back on the southern wall before it turned and retreated toward Fengtai, seven miles to the west.

Japanese and Korean citizens who reside in the district were said to have attempted to escape into the old Tartar city—the northern section—only to find the Chien-men Gate barred to them.

The southern city was cut off completely from the Tartar city, which contains the former imperial palace.

SINCE LAST WEDNESDAY

The fighting in the new area of the Peiping zone south of the Yung-Ting-Men sector of the city began shortly before noon Tuesday. It was the latest outbreak of the hostilities which started last Wednesday midnight when Japanese troops on secret manoeuvres clashed with the Chinese guard at the Marco Polo bridge over the Yung-Ting River, ten miles west of Peiping.

A few minutes after noon shells started exploding over the city's walls, shaking the city.

The Japanese column, supported by 10 field guns, trench mortars, four tanks and seven armored cars, had attempted a flanking movement to surround the Chinese defenders of Peiping.

Magistrate

VANCOUVER—Validity of section 78A of the British Columbia Liquor Act, under which four Vancouver premises have been padlocked since June 25, was upheld in the police court today by Magistrate H. S. Wood when he fined Louis Mattlo $50 for entering a house padlocked by order of Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson.

Likening the Liquor Act to the Quarantine Act, Magistrate Wood administered the minimum sentence to Mattlo when he appeared in police court to face the charge

WAR COUNCIL HELD AT TOKIO

Cabinet Decides on "Military Measures" to End North
China Crisis

TOKIO (AP)—The Japanese cabinet was reported today to have decided on military measures to solve the north China crisis unless the Chinese government accepts all Japan's terms.

"We are making fullest preparations for the emergency," one member of the cabinet said.

The decision to carry out the government's original plan to end the tense situation was said to have been caused by the increasingly grave developments in the Peiping area. Japanese and Chinese troops have been fighting there since last Wednesday.

Previously Foreign Minister Koki Hirota had appealed to a war council of Japan's industrial leaders, bankers and business men to support the government's plans to deal with the emergency.

Japan's demands are fourfold: Withdraw all troops from the area of hostilities; punish troops held responsible for the outbreak; end anti-Japanese activities; support Japan's anti-Communism campaign.

NO AXE TO GRIND
"We have no axe to grind in China, but our rights there must be respected," Hirota told the council of Japan's business lords.

"That is why we are sending reinforcements to enforce our rights and protect the lives and property of Japanese nationals."

"When China returns to normal we will withdraw the reinforcements."

Government leaders as well as industrialists were called into war councils on the north China crisis.

CHICAGO—Henry Hundreiser, 37, walked calmly into the Sumnerdale police station today and fired four shots at John Ardelean, 17, held on charges of sexually assaulting, beating and stabbing his nine-year-old daughter.

The shots missed, although fired at a distance of three feet.

The girl is recovering from 33 wounds. She was stabbed 17 times in the chest with an ice pick, and there were seven head cuts, requiring 25 stitches. She was also stabbed and slashed on the back and arms with a pair of pruning shears.

Packing Plant Scene of Rescue

EDMONTON—Trapped in neck-deep ice in a city packing plant, 29-year-old Philip Grigg was rescued alive by fellow-workers today in a thrilling half-hour battle against death by freezing or suffocation.

on which he was tried last week. His trial had been described by his counsel as a test case of true action.

Mattlo said he might appeal the sentence.

EDMONTON—Premier Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium today tendered his resignation and that of the cabinet to King Leopold, but the monarch refused to accept them.

The resignation offer followed difficulties caused by hostility towards resigned Justice Minister Victor de Laveleye for his sponsorship of the recent bill granting amnesty to those Belgians deprived of certain civil rights for pro-German activity during the Great War.

Atlantic Flying Boat on Return Trip to Britain

Above is a glimpse of the British airliner Caledonia as people in New York saw her. The towers of Manhattan formed a carpet of welcome for the big flying boat as she completed her first Atlantic flight—England-Ireland-Newfoundland-Montreal-Port Washington, N.Y. The return half of the flight was started yesterday when the Caledonia flew from Port Washington to Boucherville, near Montreal.

Earhart Search By Sixty Planes In Mid-Pacific

RENTALS SHOW BRISK PICK-UP

Good Demand Evident in City For Apartments,
Houses and Small Stores

A brisk demand for furnished apartments, furnished and unfurnished small houses, despite increased rentals averaging about 10 per cent above last year, is shown in a report on Victoria rentals made during recent weeks.

A pronounced pick-up has been shown since the beginning of July, particularly in furnished apartments. The increase in demand is attributed to a great extent to the influx of summer school students and a general influx of out-of-town visitors spending the school vacation period in the city.

According to the report higher rental classes are coming to the fore in the city, with well-to-do United States visitors seeking larger furnished houses for their vacation homes.

The demand is particularly heavy for furnished apartments. A fair number were available in June, but they are reported to be very difficult to secure at present. In certain quarters it is felt the demand later in the summer, provided the number of tourists increases, will provide a major problem for real estate brokers.

SMALL HOMES POPULAR

The smaller type of house, four or five rooms, is in increased demand. One of the larger local firms reports five or six inquiries a day for that variety of dwelling in price ranges running upward from $25 a month.

The practice common in former summers of people leaving apartments and small houses for the vacation period without fear of being unable to secure them at the close of their holidays, is reported practically extinct. Those who have desirable quarters are retaining them throughout the summer to insure accommodation when the tourist rush is over.

A slight increase in rentals for small stores in the business section of the city has proved no deterrent to tenants. The difficulty of agents at present lies in finding accommodation for interests from outside points seeking to establish small businesses here.

Fliers Spread Over Large Howland-Phoenix-Gilbert Island Section of Ocean

Aboard Aircraft Carrier Lexington off Howland Island (AP)—Sixty planes roared from the deck of the Lexington today in a last great effort to locate Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, lost 11 days ago.

The planes were in the air at 10.46 a.m., P.S.T., on the great search.

They were under orders to scan an area of 36,000 square miles of the Pacific Ocean centring on tiny Howland Island, which Miss Earhart and Capt. Noonan failed to reach on their hop from Lae, New Guinea, July 2.

The U.S. battleship Colorado, whose three planes searched the Howland Island area and the Phoenix Islands, to the southeast, for nearly a week, was bound for Honolulu today. It turned northwestward yesterday after ending its hunt Sunday evening.

It was said the new search would include the Gilbert Islands, southwest of Howland.

HATFIELD IS TO FACE TRIAL

Ottawa Magistrate Says He Will Send Mariner Before
Jury

OTTAWA—Capt. Freeman Hatfield of Parrsboro, N.S., will be committed for trial on a charge of obtaining money from the Dominion Government by false pretences, Magistrate Glenn Strike stated at the end of Hatfield's preliminary hearing in police court here today.

The magistrate directed Hatfield to appear July 21 for formal commitment.

"It's just a question of signing the papers," said Magistrate Strike.

Capt. Hatfield, owner and skipper of the three-masted schooner Gypsum Queen, abandoned the ship in July, 1935, after the masts had broken off and the rigging had gone overboard. In 1930 he obtained more than $71,000 from the government as compensation on the ground the ship had been torpedoed by a German submarine.

The government claims the ship was lost from stress of weather.

MONTREAL (CP)—A radio report received at 1.30 p.m. today at the St. Hubert airport, 14 miles southeast of here, said the Imperial Airways' flying boat Caledonia had landed this afternoon at Botwood, Nfld., on the second leg of its return north Atlantic crossing.

The machine left Boucherville, near Montreal, at 9.12 a.m. E.D.T. (5.12 P.S.T.).

LAW SOCIETY ENDS SESSION

Declines Support For Move to Abolish Appeals to Privy Council

The Law Society of British Columbia today declined endorsement of a resolution aimed to abolish appeals to the Privy Council as the business sessions of its two-day convention in the Empress Hotel drew to a close at noon.

C. M. Woodworth, Vancouver, sponsor of the motion which sought the society's support for the resolution on the grounds the Privy Council was out of touch with Canadian sentiment, could find no seconder for his resolution. By permission of the meeting, he explained his views on the matter.

Following luncheon today, a special golf tournament for members at Oak Bay was held. From 4 to 6 they were guests of Senator and Mrs. G. H. Barnard at a garden party at "Duvals," Rockland Avenue.

EVENTS TONIGHT

Preceding the official banquet at the hotel this evening, the visitors and local delegates will be entertained by the pipe band of the Canadian Scottish Second Battalion which will "beat a retreat" on the lawn of the hotel. The dinner will start at 7.30.

Wives of convention delegates will enjoy dinner in another part of the hotel.

The Senate has yet to act.

Spanish Loyalist Planes and Troops Press Offensive

Greatest Air Force Display
Yet Seen on Madrid and Basque Fronts

MADRID (AP)—Government offensives, bolstered by air power the Madrid forces never before have shown, hammered insurgent lines today on three separate fronts.

Waves of government fighting planes bombed insurgent batteries and machine-gunned troops near Villaneuva del Pardillo, making it virtually impossible for them to send reinforcements to the front west of Madrid.

On the Basque front in northern Spain government airplanes flew low over the insurgents' zig-zag line from Somorostro on the Santander highway to the Vamasda sector.

Basque and Asturian troops defending Santander against General Franco's northwest drive launched a counter-offensive under cover of the aerial protection.

Government forces also pressed their attack on the Zaragoza-Teruel front, far east of Madrid. They were reported to have penetrated Albarracin, 23 miles west of Teruel, and to have reached

Flight Record Attempt Ended

KHARTUM, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan (CP-Reuters)—Flying Officer David Llewellyn today abandoned his attempt to set a new record for the Capetown-London flight. He arrived here from Kisumu, Kenya.

Llewellyn left Capetown at 12.30 p.m. Saturday and would be unable to take off from Khartum until dawn tomorrow, which would have made it impossible for him to break the record of four days, 20 minutes, set in May by H. L. Brook.

NEW CHARGE AGAINST DUCE

LONDON (AP)—Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, former Spanish government Foreign Minister, charged today Premier Mussolini held conferences with Spanish insurgent leaders prior to the outbreak of civil war a year ago.

Del Vayo made his assertions before a private meeting of House of Commons members, including representatives of all parties.

The former Foreign Minister quoted what he said was documentary evidence to substantiate the allegation.

ASK FOR COURSE

At 10 a.m. the Seattle Army Signal Corps station reported the Russian fliers had wireless: "Advise where to go; coast or east?" The message gave no position.

A. Vartanian, Amtorg (Russian Trading Corporation) engineer in Seattle, wireless the fliers to turn east to avoid storms reported in the Canadian Rockies.

A short time after sending the message Vartanian said he might recommend the plane make Chicago its flight terminus instead of San Francisco, "depending on storm conditions."

NEAR PRINCE RUPERT

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian National Telegraph operator at Usk, B.C., 100 miles east of Prince Rupert, B.C., telegraphed here today at 11 a.m. P.S.T. he had seen an airplane which he believed to be the transpolar Russian machine, there. He said the machine was flying "straight south."

Canadian National Telegraph offices advised that Usk is in a poorly inhabited district and there was little they could do immediately to get further word of the airplane from other points.

The message from Usk did not describe the airplane which the operator saw, and efforts to get a description were not successful immediately.

Another airplane was reported over Vermilion, Alta., about 120 miles east of Edmonton, at noon, but airport officials here said they thought it was an airplane which took off from here 40 minutes earlier for Prince Albert, Sask.

FIGHT SNOWSTORM
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After battling a snowstorm and gale crossing the North Pole, three Soviet airmen in Russia's second trans-polar flight sped down from the top of the world toward San Francisco today.

Soaring through snowstorms and a cyclone area where terrific winds buffeted the plane, the fliers crossed the North Pole at 4.15 p.m. P.S.T. yesterday; less SEATTLE (AP)—Fragmentary messages picked up by the U.S. Bureau of Air Commerce here and relayed to the Army Signal Corps at 1.42 p.m. today, indicated the three Russian transpolar fliers were listening in on the Signal Corps station frequency, Capt. Paul Edwards said. The messages gave no plane position.

Captain Edwards said if the plane was following the pre-arranged 130th parallel course it should be near the Canadian-U.S. border. He said that A. Vartanian, Soviet flight representative here in charge of relaying messages to and from the plane, said he believed the plane still was following that course.

The plane would be at about Kamloops, B.C., Edwards estimated, based on its last reported position at 11.20 a.m., and its average speed of 165 miles an hour.

REPORT AT 11.20 A.M.

The three Russian fliers wireless the Army Signal Corps here at 11.20 a.m. today their plane was 400 miles north of the U.S.-Canadian boundary and 150 miles south of Fort St. John, B.C., east of the Rockies.

The message added: "Everything is all right. I don't receive you." This was after they had asked route suggestions and a message had been transmitted advising them to turn east to avoid storms.

Fort St. John is in the Peace River Block, near the Alberta boundary. A position 100 miles south of there would put the plane about due west of Grande Prairie, Alta., and close to the 55th degree of latitude.

Associated Press Movie Planned Growth of U.S. News Association Will Be Shown On Screen

HOLLYWOOD — David O. Selznick, president of Selznick International Pictures Inc., says production will begin immediately on a film depicting the history of the Associated Press and the part it has played in developing a free press in the United States.

The producer, making this announcement Monday, said the picture would describe the Associated Press at its beginning in 1848, show the growth of the non-profit co-operative association into the largest news-gathering organization in the world and, in effect, would be a cavalcade of American journalism in all its exciting and romantic aspects.

"The picture will be entitled: 'Freedom of the Press,'" Selznick said, "and will present a truthful outline of the nature of the Associated Press and its firm development of the principle of unbiased news."

WAR COUNCIL HELD AT TOKIO

The action was decreed at a cabinet session after the government had declared a "state of emergency" in the Japanese-occupied state of Manchukuo and the Kwantung leased territory.

Both borders on the trouble zone in north China's Hopei province and Japanese authorities expressed fear of air raids.

Called to the conference with the cabinet were representatives of such wealthy and powerful Japanese houses as the Mitsui, the Mitsubishi and the Okura families. The summoning of these leaders to meet with the war and naval lords and civilian government heads, together with the assembling of a council of all prefectural governors Thursday, created a sensation here.

It was believed Japan would first exhaust diplomatic means of obtaining satisfaction for the alleged Chinese attack.

Chinese Who Posted $1,000 Bail, Later Stolen, Threatens Action

VANCOUVER (CP) — The city of Vancouver today faced a possible lawsuit to recover bail money totaling $1,000 deposited at police headquarters by K. Chu, Chinese bondsman.

In a letter written to the city yesterday, Thomas Hurley, counsel for Chu, said unless the sum, part of $1,500 missing from the police general office safe, were returned by 11 a.m. today he would take legal action. At noon Mr. Hurley said there was no indication his request would be granted.

"Once it is admitted the money reached the employees of the city, my client cannot see any reason for delay in payment," Mr. Hurley said. "The city should pay, and investigate afterwards."

The first theft of $500 bail money from the police strongbox on June 25 was immediately refunded to the bondsman. Last week's theft has led to an investigation by the police commission which has resulted in the temporary suspension of two police sergeants and the police court clerk.

bombing the lines. Insurgent entrenchments of four peaks between Carranza and Valmaseda were reported destroyed in two raids.

Severity of insurgent bombardments of Madrid dropped sharply as their heavy guns were turned toward the government offensive west of the capital.

The stark Castilian plain, 15 miles west of Madrid, was an inferno of artillery and aerial bombardments.

RAID ON VALENCIA

Three insurgent bombers raided the port of Valencia, seat of the Spanish government, dropping several bombs, along the waterfront. Three persons were killed, several others injured and some buildings destroyed before government anti-aircraft batteries drove off the raiders.

BOTH CLAIM GAINS

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier (AP) — Both Spanish government and insurgent forces claimed victory today after one of the greatest of the civil war's aerial engagements.

More than 200 planes were reported to have participated in a score of encounters that revolved about Madrid's attempt to wipe out insurgent siege lines on the capital's western front.

A communiqué from insurgent headquarters said 13 government planes were brought down Monday.

Government sources insisted Madrid's air force "still held marked superiority in the air."

They said bombers shattered insurgent communications around Navalcarnero, permitting land forces to carve out additional territory in the Brunete and Villanueva del Pardillo sectors.

The main forces of the government and insurgent fleets met in the sky over Brunete Monday afternoon.

In the first clash, several planes of both sides fell in flames. Others with bullet-riddled wings and damaged frameworks were forced to land. Others returned to their bases, but came back shortly to engage in about a score of spectacular dogfights in full view of land forces of both sides.

New Zealand In U.S. Trade Plan

WASHINGTON — Hon. Walter Nash, Finance Minister of New Zealand, said after a call on President Roosevelt today he believed a reciprocal trade agreement would be negotiated between his country and the United States.

FOREIGNERS LEAVE PEIPING BATTLE AREA

Six hundred strong, they had come through the Kupehkov Pass in the Great Wall northeast of Peiping, after motoring through Gen. Hin Ju-keng's east Hopei puppet state in a convoy of 70 trucks.

TURNED SOUTHWARD

The column circled the city to the southeast and then turned southward toward Nanyuan, to attack the Chinese army headquarters there simultaneously with the force from Fengtai.

Chinese troops in the western sector, where the action had heretofore been confined, took up positions along the western wall after the one-day truce had been broken by night fighting. They were holding a line from the Si-PienMen sector, at the southwestern gate, north along the west wall.

Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan's troops of the 29th Route Army took up their new positions after a night of fighting at the famed Temple of the God of Wealth, only two miles west of the wall.

Tranload after trainload of Japanese reinforcements was being brought to Tientsin, 70 miles southeast of Peiping, from the Japanese inspired state of Manchukuo and Korea. The city where the Japanese North China garrison has its headquarters rapidly assumed a warlike appearance.

The central and east railway stations at Tientsin were clogged and the troop service caused the virtual suspension of all other railway traffic.

ATTACKED FROM EAST

TIENTSIN, China (AP) — Thirteen hundred Japanese troops from the east Hopei and Fengtai railway junction garrisons Tuesday began a concerted and direct attack on China's ancient and walled city of Peiping.

Without awaiting arrival of further Manchukuo reinforcements, the Japanese directed their attack against the city from the east and the south.

The troops drove to the very shadow of the ancient capital's walls in motor trucks and under the protection of armored cars and Japanese infantrymen, supported by light field pieces.

Chinese troops succeeded in removing sections of railway track skirting the southern and eastern walls of Peiping, to prevent the approach of Japanese armored trains.

ATTACK BEATEN OFF

The Chinese defenders, semi-official Chinese reports said, withstood the assault.

The Japanese attackers were forced to content themselves with establishing a virtual blockade of two sides of Peiping.

The Japanese also succeeded in cutting communication and supply lines between Peiping and the Nanyuan barracks, immediately to the south. The two Chinese brigades stationed there were cut off from other units of the Chinese 29th Route Army, except by a southern and round-about route.

AERIAL ATTACK

PEIPING, China (AP) — Five Japanese bombers, Chinese sources reported, bombed Nanyuan barracks and airfield eight miles south of this ancient city. The report was not at once confirmed.

The aerial attack, according to the Chinese informants, was made between 2 and 3 a.m. Tuesday.

The report first became known here late Tuesday, delayed because telephone communications with Nanyuan were cut during the day's fighting.

CONSULTATION PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Hull said today he had received a communication from the British government, which was believed to contain a suggestion of desirability of international consultation concerning the Far Eastern situation.

He declined, however, to disclose the nature or text of the note, or what reply was made by the United States.

MOSCOW PLANE FLIES OVER B.C.

than 24 hours after leaving Moscow.

The plane took off from the Stchelkovo Field, 35 miles from Moscow, at 5.22 p.m. P.S.T., Sunday.

The airman—Pilot Mikhail Gromoff, Copilot Andrei Yumoshoff, and Navigators Sergei Danilin—followed a trail blazed three weeks ago by three of their countrymen in a similar plane, who flew 5,283 miles to Vancouver, Wash., where they landed with but 10 gallons of fuel.

The present flight, which had San Francisco as the goal when the take-off was made, may end either here or at some other Pacific Coast city, depending on weather conditions and fuel consumption aboard the plane, which has a single wing 154 feet from tip to tip, and is powered by one motor developing more than 1,000 horse power.

FLY AT ALTITUDE

More than 8,000 feet in the air to escape snow and a cyclone area, the plane soared over the polar region and out across the bleak ice cap for the northern Canadian shores.

It was reported the fliers planned to follow a course along the 120th meridian, which would bring them across the central portion of the district of Mackenzie, along the eastern border of British Columbia, over central Washington and Oregon and into California.

Before leaving Moscow, Pilot Gromoff said the flight's purpose was to "confirm again the possibility of regular communications intercontinentally by way of the Pole," and to attempt breaking the non-stop record of 5,367 miles now held by the Frenchmen Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos.

It is approximately 6,000 miles by air line via the North Pole from Moscow to San Francisco, the goal of the first trans-polar flight by Pilot Valeri Chkaloff, Co-pilot Georgi Baibukoff and Navigator Alexander Belakoff. They took 63 hours and 17 minutes to reach Vancouver, Wash., June 20.

Pilot Gromoff's plane reached the Pole in eight minutes under 24 hours, compared with the 28 hours required by Chkaloff.

Log of the Moscow-U.S. flight, all hours being Pacific Standard Time:

Sunday, July 11—4.22 p.m.—Mikhail Gromoff, co-pilot Andrei Yumoshoff and Navigator Sergei Danilin took off from the Tschelkovo Field near Moscow for San Francisco.

Monday, July 12—4.15 a.m.—Plane reported position about 1,400 miles from North Pole.

5.09 a.m.—Radioed "All is well."

10.20 a.m.—Traveling 105 miles an hour through "heavy fog."

11.01 a.m.—Plane over Rudolf Island, 560 miles from Pole.

1.15 p.m.—Climbed to 14,763 feet to pass over cyclone area.

4.14 p.m.—Crossed North Pole in snowstorm at 8,858 feet.

6.40 p.m.—Approximately 120 miles on North American side of Pole.

BANDITS RAID NORTH BRAZIL

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana — An army of bush negroes and aboriginal Indians, led by fugitives from the French penal colony of Cayenne, was ravaging the settlements along the Oyapoc River, according to information reaching Georgetown today.

The hundreds of well-armed negroes and Indians were driving families from the district and refugees were seeking haven at the city of Balem, Brazil.

Owing to the political unrest in Brazil, it was reported the federal government was unable to send troops to aid the state militia, and it was said the bandit army had invaded Mapa, rich mineral area in North Brazil.

Several notorious French criminals were stated to be the leaders of the outlaw army.

Hearst Named At Tax Inquiry

U.S. Congressmen Told Jacob Ruppert Also Eased His Levy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of William Randolph Hearst, publisher; Jacob Ruppert, New York brewer and baseball magnate, and William S. Paley of New York, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System Inc., went into the records of the United States congressional tax inquiry committee today.

The names were mentioned by John Rogge, securities commission chairman borrowed by the Treasury to aid in its investigation of methods by which wealthy persons have been able to reduce their income tax payments.

Before Rogge took the stand, James Roosevelt, eldest son and secretary of President Roosevelt, made an unheralded appearance before the committee to deny he had any interest in a personal holding company in the Bahamas.

RUPPERT CORPORATION

None of his testimony involved any charges of illegality.

Rogge said Ruppert "manages to escape a considerable amount of tax through the use of the Ruppert Holding Corporation," a personal holding company.

That company, he said, owns a large portion of the stock of the American League Baseball Club of New York and in 1935 and 1936, he testified, saved Ruppert $102,470 in taxes.

Rogge went into a detailed discussion of Hearst's publishing enterprises and did not discuss immediately the question of tax savings.

Discussing the Park Corporation, which he said was owned by W. S. Paley and used as a depository of a considerable amount of Columbia Broadcasting System stock, Rogge said Paley had reduced his taxes $35,153 last year by "using the holding company device."

LAST EFFORT FOR SPAIN BAN

Britain Proposes New Moves By Nations to Preserve Their Neutrality

LONDON (CP) — Great Britain drafted a scheme in a last effort today to place together the tattered remnants of Spanish non-intervention.

This afternoon Foreign Secretary Eden saw the ambassadors of Germany, Italy, France and Russia and submitted to them the British proposals and invited their views. The Non-intervention Committee itself probably will be called into session Friday. Should the plan fail, Great Britain and France, it is predicted, will resume full freedom of action.

Neutral observers have been withdrawn from both the Portuguese and French frontiers of Spain pending a decision on the new scheme.

AT FRENCH BORDER

PARIS (CP-Havis) — The French government suspended international control of the Franco-Spanish border at noon today.

Conforming in her non-intervention pledges, however, France kept the frontier closed to passage of foreign volunteers as well as arms, munitions and other materials banned by the 27-power non-intervention committee.

Beaver dams were important and helpful in controlling erosion in this country, before man's arrival.

U.S. RAILROAD LOAN TO CHINA

WASHINGTON — Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation, said Monday he was considering a request from Chinese government spokesmen for financial assistance in buying railroad and textile equipment in this country.

Recently, the Export-Import Bank arranged a loan to China for the purchase of American locomotives.

Jones told a press conference he had talked last week with H. H. Kung, Chinese Finance Minister, regarding further assistance to China in buying United States goods.

Jones said some arrangement probably would be worked out under which the Export-Import Bank would join with United States exporters in making advances to China. He declared no "excessive" sum would be involved.

Asked whether the Sino-Japanese military crisis would be considered in making loans to China, Jones replied that "we would probably read the war news before reaching a decision."

Three Men and Two Women Sentenced

CLEVELAND, O.—Judge Paul Jones sentenced three men and two women to prison terms Monday for harboring the Alvin Karpis gangsters following the Bremer kidnapping in St. Paul, Minn.

All five defendants pleaded guilty in federal court, as two Cleveland gamblers had done previously.

Sentenced were Theodore and Bert Angus, brothers, two years and 10 months; Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGraw and Edith Barry, Toledo rooming-house proprietors, two years.

Canada's Progress In Arctic Is Praised

LONDON—Canada's work in the Arctic deserves greater recognition than it has been receiving. The London Times declared Monday.

"Certainly the great work Canada is doing should be more widely known," the newspaper said editorially in commenting on the air routes being established and the medical, missionary and education work being carried out.

"As more minerals are discovered, perhaps the Canadian government will spend more money making rivers navigable and developing airports. As it is, Ottawa has the satisfaction of knowing that every penny has been wisely spent, and that the progress has been such that the foundations of a brave new community have been laid.

Canadians Aid Madrid Defence

Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion of 300 Men Holds Road on Jarama Front

MADRID (CP)—The 300 Canadians of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion, just moved up to the Jarama front, can look forward to participating in some of the heaviest fighting of the Spanish war as the government drive to raise the siege of Madrid is extended to their sector.

They had a taste of serious warfare over the week-end, when six of their number were reported killed, including Thomas Neilson and A. Armitage of Vancouver.

Formerly, except for lice and dysentery, which the veterans had come to regard as more of a menace than the insurgents in the opposing trenches, life on the Jarama front was rather like that in a summer camp for boys.

Behind a protecting ridge, only a few rods from the front line trench, are three ping-pong tables, a baseball diamond, an area for pitching horseshoes, a library and a canteen that sells everything from cigarettes to hair oil. These are some of the benefits they have sharing with the Lincoln Battalion of Americans.

Radio-receiving sets operate day and night, bringing in BBC newscasts and musical programmes. In addition to the library, a daily newspaper is mimeographed and a weekly is printed in Madrid and brought out to the line.

DEFEND VITAL ARTERY

The Canadian unit on the Jarama front, 26 miles southeast of Madrid, began with a nucleus of about 20 who, with other members of the Lincoln Battalion and Spanish militiamen, successfully defended the Madrid-Valencia highway against a major insurgent attack last February 27. The highway is a vital artery through which besieged Madrid receives virtually all its supplies and reinforcements and evacuates civilians.

Shortly after that engagement, in which many English-speaking volunteers were killed and wounded, replacements brought the number of Canadians up to 40. They remained in the front line for four months, with only one break of three days when they were relieved by a unit of Frenchmen. This is an all-time record for front line service, according to military men.

Then, recently, the Lincoln Battalion, which included the 40 Canadians, was moved back to a rest camp for three weeks' leave. During the rest, Canadians were withdrawn from scattered fighting units in Spain and 300 were organized into the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion.

A check-up at the rest camp shows that, as nearly as can be calculated, 23 Canadians have been killed in fighting since the beginning of the war.

It is estimated there are 500 Canadians in loyalist Spain. Many are in medical and transport services.

Indian Jailed For Two Years

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C.—Arthur Samson, Bear Lake Indian, was sentenced Monday night to two years in the British Columbia Penitentiary by Judge H. E. A. Robertson for the wounding of Hugo Stalberg May 20.

Samson, sentenced after a quick trial, was convicted on evidence given by his nephew, Alex Bailey, that he had shot Stalberg during a dispute over some beaver traps.

The incident took place 30 miles northeast of Fishing Lakes, on the headwaters of the Finlay River.

New Single Relief Plan in Vancouver

VANCOUVER—Ald. R. P. Pettipiece, chairman of the civic social services committee, Monday announced a new agreement between the city and the British Columbia government to provide for taking all able-bodied relief recipients off the relief rolls and giving them a certain number of days' work each month. It will begin July 19.

The scheme, in the nature of an experiment, would be reviewed at its termination September 30, he said.

Man Plunges 60 Feet to Death

VANCOUVER—Harry Gustavson died in a hospital Monday as the result of injuries received when he fell 60 feet from the top of a downtown business block.

Firemen, who removed Gustavson from the skylight which broke his fall when the rigging of his bosun's chair gave way, said the half-inch steel rods supporting the wire net of the light well were buckled with the force of the impact. It was 10 minutes before he could be freed and rushed to the hospital.

ing units in Spain and 300 were organized into the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion.

A check-up at the rest camp shows that, as nearly as can be calculated, 23 Canadians have been killed in fighting since the beginning of the war.

It is estimated there are 500 Canadians in loyalist Spain. Many are in medical and transport services.

It was also announced R. J. Tallon, Ottawa, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, had been named a member for a two-year term.

CONSERVATION PRAIRIE PLAN

SASKATCHEWAN—A plan involving the expenditure of about $400,000,000 over a period of five years, for conserving the waters of the South Saskatchewan and the North Saskatchewan Rivers, followed by afforestation and irrigation, is being considered at the present time by eastern financial interests.

The federal government is sympathetic to plans to help the west.

This information was brought to Saskatoon by P. J. Philpot of the Saskatoon branch of the Canadian Legion, who has been in the east, along with C. H. Wentz of Saskatoon, and delegates from other prairie cities, in connection with unemployment among ex-service men and the work of the Veterans' Assistance Commission. A condition of national calamity faced Saskatchewan, he said, and water conservation was essential. Such water conservation would employ not only ex-servicemen but other unemployed.

KEATING

In the annual strawberry crop competition held by South Saskatchewan Farmers' Institute, W. Holloway, with 90 points, won first prize; S. E. Vantreigh, 89 points, second; and E. S. Brenner, 88 points, third. There were nine entries. The judges were E. W. White and E. C. Reid.

Premier King On Brief Holiday

OTTAWA — Prime Minister King is spending a brief holiday at his summer home at Kingsmere, in the Gatineau Hills, where he will remain until Wednesday afternoon, when he will meet his cabinet for the first time since early May, at the time of his departure to attend the Coronation.

There will be a great deal to tell his colleagues at this first cabinet meeting since the Prime Minister's return and it is not anticipated the government will reach any important decisions on the various matters before it until later in the week.

GIN SUGGESTION

DRUMHELLER, Alta. — Lord Tweedsmuir showed keen interest Monday in the stunted juniper bush that grows in the Alberta badlands, clambering up a butte to get a closer look at the cedar-like plant that clings to the ground interspersed with prickly pear. He noticed the great extent of the bush—growth—and suggested: "Couldn't someone start a gin industry using the juniper berry?"

Macadam roads were invented by a Scotsman, John L. Macadam, over a century ago.

No Recognition For Miners Yet

Manager Villiers Says Island Group Has Not Agreed to Terms

NANAIMO—Colonel Charles W. Villiers of Cumberland, general manager of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., in a statement here Monday denied his company or the Western Fuel Corporation at Nanaimo, had recognized the union of the United Mine Workers of America.

Representatives of the U.M.W.A. had stated here last Saturday that the company, both at Cumberland and Nanaimo, had recognized the union, but the question of increased wages and working conditions had been held in abeyance pending the appointment of a conciliation board by Ottawa.

Col. Villiers said he had agreed to recognize the union, providing the U.M.W.A. was prepared to adopt, take over and carry out the terms of the agreement between the men and the company, at present in force in the Comox district, and which will not expire until October 31, 1938. He further agreed that if the arrangement was accepted by the U.M.W.A. he would enter into an agreement, covering the Western Fuel Company operations, in accordance with terms and conditions as arranged January 16, 1928.

No definite undertaking was given by Mr. Levitt on behalf of the U.M.W.A. Col. Villiers pointed out, and the whole matter stood in abeyance. No recognition of the union had been agreed to by the company.

Estimated Wheat Carryover

ACCORDING TO ESTIMATES, OUR wheat carryover on July 31 of this year will amount to about 35,000,000 bushels. This is smaller than the average carryover which existed prior to the accumulation of large wheat stocks in the Dominion. The change in carryover of wheat in recent years may be seen from the following table:

(As of July 31—in bushels)

1937 (estimated)	35,000,000
1936	118,772,000
1935	203,273,000
1934	193,990,000
1933	211,759,000
1932	131,844,000
1931	134,078,000
1930	111,094,000
1929	103,749,000
1928	77,547,000
1927	50,786,000

The sharp drop in the wheat carryover in Canada was caused primarily by the reduction of the visible supply of wheat throughout the world which was due to the poor crops in the United States and in this country as well as poor crop conditions in a number of other countries.

The sharp reduction in the size of the carryover will make it possible for the Canadian government to drop completely the wheat business by July 31. Mr. J. R. Murray, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, stated that based on conditions as they exist at the present time the board will in all probability have liquidated practically all its wheat holdings. It has been estimated that 10,000,000 bushels represent the present maximum holdings of wheat by the board. Since the price of wheat at the present time is materially higher than that paid by the board, it is not expected that it will acquire new wheat.

The material decline in the wheat carryover as well as of the liquidation of the wheat holdings by the Canadian Wheat Board terminates an episode in Canada's agricultural development which has aroused considerable agitation. While prices of wheat were low, there was a constant pressure on the government from the farmers to maintain a high price for wheat. The government, in order to maintain the purchasing power of the farmers, was therefore forced to invest considerable amounts in wheat and on which the government had to take a substantial loss. This in turn caused dissatisfaction among taxpayers who demanded that the activities of the board be liquidated.

The poor crops in the United States and Canada during 1936 solved the problem. For the moment the outlook is for a shorter wheat crop in our country so that for 1937-1938 there will certainly be no difficulty in disposing of the output.

Welcome Visitors

IT ONLY SEEMS LIKE THE OTHER DAY when farewells were being said here to Hon. Randolph Bruce, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, and Mrs. Bruce as they left for Tokyo where for the last nine months Mr. Bruce has ably discharged the exacting and important duties of Canada's Minister to Japan. The former lieutenant-governor and his wife are back in this country for a two months' holiday which will take them all across the Dominion to the Atlantic seaboard.

Mr. Bruce reminded newspaper interviewers that it is the hot season in the Orient, that all who have the wherewithal are "taking to the hills" where it is more congenial climatically, but "I reached the conclusion that the best hills I could go to," the Minister said, "were in British Columbia." Coming to British Columbia, of course, is coming home to Mr. Bruce. And we may say what we have said in these columns before that very few know this province and its people as well as our distinguished visitor. We shall hope that he and his wife will have a pleasant holiday and return to Tokyo fully refreshed.

Television Development

THE RECENT OPENING OF THE TELEVISION exhibition at the Science Museum, South Kensington, following closely on the successful televising of the Coronation procession, marks a change in the popular conception of the most exciting and most tantalizing of modern inventions. For a long time the public were inclined to regard it as a scientific toy of no practical value. Optimists, on the other hand, made extravagant claims for it, assuming it to have already reached a state of perfection. Ignoring both these views, scientists continued gradually to overcome the many technical difficulties, and now television is an established fact.

The present exhibition includes some of the actual apparatus used in 1925 by the pioneer inventor, Mr. J. L. Baird, and also a working model embodying suggestions that were made as far back as 1911 by Dr. Campbell Swinton for the transmission of pictures by means of a cathode ray tube. The modern BBC station at Alexandra Palace, which was opened about six months ago, gives the only regular public television broadcasts in the world. An object of great interest in the exhibition is a model of the BBC mobile television unit which was used during the Coronation procession. Sound and picture were broadcast simultaneously in sufficient strength to reach the Alexandra Palace station. Here they were picked up and rebroadcast to the London Home Counties, within a radius of 25 miles. Actually they were received nearly 70 miles away, and the BBC officials estimate that over 50,000 people saw the procession on viewing screens. The original estimate of 25 miles as the range of television has generally been exceeded by at least 25 per cent. At greater distances there is a risk of serious interference by the ignition systems of motor cars.

Henry Cotton Repeats

THERE IS A YOUNG MAN IN BRITAIN tonight who must feel like yielding to the temptation to expand his chest a little bit. His name is super-golfer Henry Cotton. The reason for the suggestion is that he marked up a six-and-five victory in a 72-hole match over Denny Shute, United States Professional Golfer's Association title holder, at Walton Heath.

Not only was today's and yesterday's an outstanding display by both Cotton and Shute, it also was a gruelling test of mental and physical stamina—after the exhausting business last week of the British Open Championship in which both took part, and which found Cotton at the top of the list of the finest galaxy of international exponents of the Royal and Ancient Pastime ever assembled. And Cotton won it, to quote the Associated Press dispatch from Carnoustie, Scotland, by "sloughing his way through as wild a storm as ever blew in off the North Sea." Golfers on more than one continent will give Cotton the right to expand his chest tonight.

Two thousand dollars and his right to assume the title of "unofficial world champion golfer" is the reward for Cotton's prowess. Shute, by the way, pockets $500—not to be sneezed at.

Telling Mr. de Valera

HAPPILY TO RELATE, THE "GLORIOUS Twelfth" went off yesterday in Northern Ireland without disorder, a contrast with two years ago when nine people were killed.

The celebrations in Belfast, however, furnished Viscount Craigavon, Prime Minister of the Six Counties, and Sir Joseph Davison, Grand Master of the Belfast Orangemen, with an opportunity to address a few words to President de Valera of the Irish Free State, to tell him in simple language that Ulster has no use, and will have no use at any time in the future, for his idea of a united Ireland. This reference was to the new constitution recently ratified by the Irish Free State electorate which implied the possibility of Ireland as a whole removed from British influence.

Viscount Craigavon declared emphatically that "Ulster is impregnable, founded on the rock of the Government of Ireland Act and other statutes of the Imperial Parliament. We will have nothing to do with a united Ireland."

From the standpoint of the British connection the attitude of Ulster and the Irish Free State differs as much as chalk differs from cheese. If Mr. de Valera thinks he can rope in the six Northern Counties to his scheme of playing sulky with Great Britain he will have to burn the midnight oil with a wet towel round his head until his waning days. And then he will be about as near to it as he is now.

Incidentally, the President obviously must be doing a lot of serious thinking. While his "constitution" was ratified by a substantial majority, his followers in the next Dail would seem to be about an even match in strength to the combination of other parties—not elected under his banner.

Notes

Man seems to be a wonderful animal until we learn what awful things he can do in the conviction that he is right.

Science has enabled us to travel 100 or more miles an hour, but it has not given some of us anything to do when we get there.

If soldiers of the future are to be mere robots, it will at least be a change to have a tin-junged sergeant-major squeaking out the orders.

The total expenditure of foreign tourists in Canada during 1936 is officially estimated at $257,000,000 as against the final estimate for 1935 of $214,000,000. Canadian tourists abroad spent approximately $95,000,000 in 1936 contrasted with $87,000,000 in 1935. Based on these figures there was a balance from the tourist trade favorable to Canada of $162,000,000 in 1936 and $127,000,000 in 1935.

An observing reader called The Ottawa Journal to say she sat on her back porch for half an hour one morning watching a nest of half-grown tree swallows under the eaves of her garage. In that period Pa and Ma Swallow together made 36 trips to the box with provisions for their voracious young family—they catch their game on the wing and take it alive and kicking to their greedy babies and they maintain this service hour upon hour and day after day. When the family leaves home the parent swallows have earned their winter in the south.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

VIENNA.

UNDER THE BOUGH

OVER EVERY second doorway in Grinsing hangs a green fir bough. This is the ancient sign of the wine garden and the origin of the old saying that good wine needs no bush.

In these summer evenings half Vienna takes the street car out to Grinsing to its favorite wine garden. Tonight every garden with a green bough at the gate was packed, and in Mr. Schmidt's establishment, under the pungent, sweet linden trees, we were the only people who could speak English. This was not a haunt for tourists, but the place where the Viennese enjoy themselves in their own fashion.

It is a simple, harmless fashion. You have seen it in the movies, of course, a score of times—the native orchestra, the lovely singer, the crowd swaying to the time of Strauss waltzes. Strangely enough, the movies have only exaggerated it a little. A wine garden out in Grinsing isn't quite so glamorous as the movies make out, but it does have a real gaiety about it which we Anglo-Saxons can never quite achieve; certainly not on a couple of glasses of the sour white wine of the Danubian Valley.

POOR FOLKS

THE PEOPLE at Mr. Schmidt's tonight were mostly poor, with money only for street car fare and 30 cents for a glass jug of wine. That was all they needed for a good time—that and the lights shining through the linden leaves and a little band of three men and a singer.

The band consisted of a youngster with a violin, another with a guitar, and a grizzled old soldier with white mustache who played an accordion and, at every pause, pulled a chunk of white bread out of his pocket and gnawed it vigorously, so as to have a large mouthful to carry him through the next song.

The darling of the resort, well loved by its constant patrons, was a round shiny young man with slicked-back hair and pudgy hands. A soft, nasty-looking lad, but with the voice of an angel. He sang, almost without a break, all evening, and if he had only the looks of a Nelson Eddy he could easily be the darling of Hollywood.

The singer and the band kept wandering among the tables, pausing here and there to serenade some favored guest. The fat young man would sit down on the edge of the table, the violinist would throw away his cigarette and, after the old accordion man had taken another bite off his large white roll, they would launch into a new song.

OLD SONGS

THEY WERE real Viennese songs, sad, sweet and lilting. Several times they played the "Blue Danube Waltz" that was written here in Vienna by a man who knew these Viennese wine gardens and, for the first time, you got the full flavor of it. Perhaps that is how it was intended to be played, by a little band of poor musicians in a cheap wine garden, and sung by a fellow who was glad to get a schilling tip.

The crowd swayed and drummed on the tables to the time of the music, and every now and then, when they heard a well-known piece, they would join in the choruses. They were mostly middle-aged people, plump housewives, shabby clerks. But there were a few dashing young men, with dueling scars on their cheeks, the remains of Vienna's nobility, and an old aristocrat with a beautiful pointed beard and a face like Don Quixote, who lolled back in a cloud of cigarette smoke, with sad eyes, gently moving his empty glass to the time of the music, remembering other days.

Girls in peasant dress brought the jugs of wine and cheeked the customers, who seemed to like it. There were a few blonde, slinky ladies in evening dress, who practiced their ancient profession in the better parts of Vienna, but after the movies, a Viennese crowd was sadly lacking in glamour. These were ordinary family people, plain folks who came here to drink one jug of wine and sing a bit as we would go to the movies.

MERRY WIDOW

PRESENTLY the singer caught sight of us and picked us up for Americans. The band stood about us, the singer sat down on our table and surged into the old tunes from "The Merry Widow"—the gushing "Merry Widow Waltz," "At Jolly Old Maxine's" and "Vella." I have never heard them played so sweetly as by this tiny band (the accordion player chewing his bread all the while), or sung better than by this fat youngster, loling on the table. Music to these people is as natural and essential as food to us.

The fat boy, delighted with our two schillings, retired to a table to eat a large plate of schnitzel, and his place was taken by a red-nosed man with a face like the original American bartender. His voice was pretty bad, but he could make funny faces and imitate an Englishman with a monocle, and the crowd loved that.

UNKNOWN GIRL

THEN THE band moved over to a table where an old man and his wife were sitting with their daughter, a yellow-haired girl of perhaps 17. She blushed and protested but finally they got her to stand up on her chair and sing.

The song of this unknown child from the poor suburbs of Vienna was worth coming across Europe to hear. The words, of course, meant nothing to us, but the voice, the way her song poured out, just as a bird sings, effortlessly, without training or skill, was something no one could forget. Under the perfumed linden trees where the lights winked among the leaves, the whole crowd fell silent, listening to this girl in her blue cotton dress—another Jeritza, perhaps, who will never be known outside of Grinsing. The old accordion man forgot his role and his face beamed as he played, very softly, and as the child sat down, blushing and confused, he leaned over and kissed her yellow hair.

Pacific Clippers Cover First Million Miles

WITH the arrival of the Philippine Clipper in Manila, P.I., yesterday, 1,000,000 miles of trans-oceanic flying had been logged by Pan American Airways trans-Pacific clippers flying in regular, scheduled airline service across the world's largest ocean, linking this continent to the Orient by air. This significant milestone in the history of transportation represents a supreme achievement in that galaxy of aviation events occurring in the decade which began with the year 1927 and which opened with the first of a long series of attempts in inter-continental flights across seas.

The record of Pan American Airways 1,000,000 miles in trans-Pacific flying—all of it done exclusively in flights on which either mail, express or passengers, or all three, were carried—was made in the last two years of this decade. In this period, after long and intensive study of the route to be flown, after the creation of two important mid-Pacific island stations, carved out of coral hardness and semi-tropical wilderness, after the erection of power houses, wireless stations and modern airway inns for the comfort and care of sky travelers, more than one hundred air crossings have been made without a single mishap on the 9,000-mile trans-Pacific airway, which now extends from the mainland of the United States directly into China. In the accomplishment of this million-mile record, 5,622,124 passenger miles have been flown and nearly 200 tons of air freight, exclusive of mail, have been carried on the wings of the clippers.

While the first 1,000,000 miles have been logged in the last two years of the most important decade of the history of aviation, the achievement has little in common with the reckless spirit of daring-do which marked many of those heroic stunt flights over oceans with which the ten-year period opened. A whole new science of aerial navigation and instrument flying, unknown at the beginning of that decade, has been perfected. Radio control has been developed to a point where planes are in touch with land stations every minute throughout an entire flight. While most of the pioneering ocean air crossings of 1927 were undertaken on a hit-or-miss basis in single-engine land planes, the 1,000,000-mile record of the clippers has been done entirely in four-engine transoceanic flying boats of a size and type unknown ten years ago. Even the training of the fliers who are responsible for bringing the modern ocean airliners with their cargoes of passengers, mail and express in on schedule, differs radically from that of the pilots who first undertook to demonstrate that the seas could be crossed by air.

From The Chatham News
The president of the Professional Models' League says that "40 per cent of Hollywood's heroines do not know how to wear clothes." Probably that's why so many of them don't.

His Majesty Host to 10,000 at Party

For the first time since he came to the throne, King George VI was host to 10,000 guests at a Royal garden party in Buckingham Palace grounds. The photo shows the King, in top hat, followed by Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary, and Princess Elizabeth, passing down the long line of guests.

Local Girl Married In South

Miss Victoria Wyld
Is Bride Of
Mr. Chester Lunt

A wedding of interest to many Victorians took place on the evening of July 9 at Ramona's Marriage Place, San Diego, in the historic adobe chapel built in 1893, when Rev. Tyler united in marriage Alice Victoria May Wyld, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wyld, of Rocky Point, and Mr. Chester De Forrest Lunt, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lunt of Pittsburg, Penn.

For the occasion the chapel was beautifully decorated with bougainvillea, dahlias and lilies, with lighted candles on the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. C. G. Keeton in the absence of her father, and looked charming in a floor-length gown of georgette in pastel shades and a primrose leghorn picture hat trimmed with yellow silk daisies. She wore an amber bracelet and a brooch, belonging to her great-grandmother, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman rosebuds and gardenias, and carried a gold mesh evening bag, the gift of the bridegroom.

She was attended by Mrs. B. Sears of San Diego, who wore a sheer gown in swing style, and a white hat, while her corsage was of mauve gladioli. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. B. Sears.

Following the ceremony, a small reception was held at Paul's Night Club, at which Mrs. Wyld, mother of the bride, welcomed the guests wearing a gown of flowered sheer, with wine-colored hat, an ermine stole and a corsage bouquet of violets.

The table was decorated with salmon and rose zinnias and white marguerites, the wedding cake, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson, being surmounted with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Following a trip to Catalina, the bride and bridegroom will make their home in San Diego at the De Luxe Apartments. For traveling the bride donned a dress of white tulle with swing skirt, red accessories and a white coat.

Guests at the wedding included Judge and Mrs. Leon J. Rose, Miss Linda Rose, Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson, Mr. Bill Haines, Mr. Joe Gagnon, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fleming of La Jolla, and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Moyers of Mission Beach.

It was a colorful assemblage, many wearing national costumes, and as they walked through the gardens they were photographed against hedges of roses, lilies, delphiniums and a riot of summer flowers in the height of their bloom.

Scientists Leave London For Arctic in Motor Vessel Isbjorn

LONDON—Norwegian motor-driven sailing vessel, the Isbjorn, commanded by Capt. Albert Bergesen, headed into the Arctic reaches today with a party of scientists to carry out cosmic ray investigations.

The scientists will release balloons at various parts of their voyage to the west of Greenland and Ellesmere Island. The cosmic ray investigations will be made at very high altitudes within 10 degrees of the north magnetic pole near Baffin Bay, one of the two places where the rays can be observed effectively.

The balloons will be flown possibly to a height of 19 miles, and to these will be attached detecting apparatus. In addition investigations are to be conducted by T. T. Paterson, geologist and anthropologist, and by T. C. Lethbridge on ancient Eskimo civilization in Greenland, Ellesmere Land and Baffin Land.

NEW SHIP FOR PACIFIC ROUTE

Ms. Salacia Due in Victoria Sept. 26; Parthenia, Here Today, to Be Replaced

With the arrival of Ss. Parthenia here today with cargo from the United Kingdom, it was announced by officers of the ship that the new motorship Salacia, built specially for the north Pacific trade, is about ready to leave the Clyde on her maiden voyage to Victoria.

It is not definitely known whether the Salacia will replace the Parthenia, but it was reported aboard this morning that this was probable.

The Salacia is a modern carrier built for the Donaldson Line by Harland and Wolff at the Govan plant on the Clyde.

She is a refrigerator ship and will have limited passenger accommodation on the bridge deck.

She will have a sea speed of 14 knots and will be the fastest ship of the Donaldson fleet in the north Pacific service.

The newest vessel of the fleet at present plying here is the Gracila, the others being the Modavia, Gracia and Parthenia.

The Salacia will sail from Glasgow next month and will arrive here about September 26.

Capt. James Cook, present master of the Gracia, will bring the Salacia out here on her maiden voyage, it is understood.

FRUIT ON PARTHENIA

The Parthenia experienced good weather on the voyage out from Glasgow via the Panama Canal, docking here at an early hour this morning from Seattle, where she unloaded part cargo.

The chief local shipments were bananas from Guayaquil, about 1,100 stems being discharged here. She also put ashore whisky shipments from Glasgow.

The ship has 5,000 stems of bananas for delivery at Vancouver.

Capt. Alex. McKeehan is master of the Parthenia.

The ship sailed early this afternoon for Vancouver.

She will load a full cargo at mainland ports for the outward voyage.

UNIONS WAGE OPEN WARFARE

I.L.A. President Says He Is "Not Taking Ultimatums From Anybody"

NEW YORK—Threats of raids and counter-raids in the nation's union labor camps today touched off the heralded "open warfare" between John L. Lewis's C.I.O. and the American Federation of Labor for control of 40,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Association.

As a prelude to the struggle, leaders on both sides held conferences behind locked doors.

Principals gave every indication of fight to the finish, with Joseph P. Ryan, veteran I.L.A. president, declaring: "We're not taking ultimatums from anybody."

The "ultimatum" was served on Ryan yesterday by Harry Bridges, leader of Pacific coast longshoremen, the so-called "brains" of the 1934 west coast maritime strike which paralyzed shipping for 77 days, cost an estimated $100,000,000, and ended only after a general strike in San Francisco.

Bridges informed Ryan that the C.I.O. was determined to invade the nation's waterfronts and enroll both longshoremen and warehouse workers.

He warned Ryan that unless he abandoned the A.F. of L., with which the I.L.A. has been affiliated for 25 years, the C.I.O. would take Ryan's organization away from him.

Ryan threatened "retaliations" in other C.I.O. dominated fields if Bridges pushed his ultimatum to a showdown.

Newfoundland Makes Bid For Atlantic Air Route Recognition

By HAROLD E. FREEMAN, Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEWFOUNDLAND AIRPORT—A group of about 1,000 men and $500,000 in machinery are waging a successful battle with nature here, as they hew a great airport out of virgin timberland in Newfoundland's bid for trans-Atlantic air route recognition.

Under direction of Resident Engineer T. B. Woodyard of Toronto, one of the builders of St. Hubert's airport outside Montreal, shifts of men and machines work 24 hours a day; cutting, clearing, ripping, leveling and grading over an 860-acre gash in the dense timber country 213 miles northwest of St. John's by rail and about 130 miles from the capital by plane.

A mile to the east, three towers are rising from another man-made break in the forest where a wireless station with the most powerful and modern equipment available will guide huge planes on their trans-ocean dashes.

More than 20 tractors, a giant stone-crusher, Diesel-powered shovels, ground-ripper, rotozers, railway engines, steam-rollers, conveyors, graders and trucks are working continuously.

Four runways, surfaced with an asphalt-like substance are planned. No. 3 runway will be 4,900 feet long and 1,020 feet wide, while the other three will each be 4,500 feet in length with a breadth of 600 feet.

Wonders of the Ant World

One of the interesting things a gardener sometimes observes is an ant taking an aphid out to pasture.

Ant milking an aphid cow.

Aphids are "ant cows." They feed on plants, and some families of ants watch over them with great care. Juice from a plant is turned into honeydew inside an aphid's body, just as grass and other food are turned into milk inside a cow's body.

A worker ant has long soft feelers, and with these it strokes an aphid until a drop of honeydew is given forth. The honeydew is a thick liquid. I do not know who has tasted it, but the ant experts tell us it is sweet.

Pierre Huber, a pioneer in ant study, observed the keeping of ant cows over a century ago. Here is part of an account he wrote about them:

"I placed the ants and the aphids in a box with a glass cover, providing earth and the roots of a few plants. From time to time, I supplied water for the insects."

The ants did not try to escape. They seemed quite happy and contented, and took the same good care of their larvae and queens as they would have taken in their own nest.

"They also took good care of the aphids, and the latter seemed to have no fear of the ants. The aphids let the ants carry them from one place to another, and when they were put down they stayed in the place chosen by their keepers. I have seen the same ant pick up three aphids, one after the other, and carry them to a dark place."

We may feel sure that many persons of Huber's time thought he was making up the story. Since then, however, other persons have given careful study to the subject, and have found that what he said was truthful.

A German scientist kept track of the drops supplied by aphids, and found that one of them produced 19 drops in a day, and that another aphid supplied 48 drops in a day.

Ants often watch over the eggs of aphids. The eggs are kept in the nests, and are guarded with as much care as the eggs laid by ant queens. Aphid eggs are black, brown, or white. After they hatch, the ant colony has a new batch of cows or "cattle."

Some families of ants can make a kind of paper from wood which they take into their mouths. Now and then, it has been observed that aphids are kept in them. It is more common, however, for ants to keep aphids inside their own nests.

When aphids are out at pasture, ants stay nearby for a reason besides the desire to obtain the honeydew. They are ready to fight against ants of another colony which may come to steal the cattle.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1937
While this is not an important day in planetary direction, it should be lucky, according to astrology, women should benefit under this rule of the stars.

Much travel is prognosticated for American girls, but they are warned against taking risks in transportation in the air or on the water.

Good luck attends lovers today, when Neptune enables them to discern the truth about character. High ideals rule under this planetary government.

This is a favorable day for weddings which are devoid of pomp and ceremony. Divorce is not probable for those plunging into this way.

Creative work of every sort should benefit today, when writers, painters and actors should be able to present what is best in their talents.

Inventions of benefit to persons physically handicapped will supplement the knowledge of physicians and surgeons with remarkable results. The deaf and the blind will be helped as if by magic. The secret power that through unexpected channels power to institute reforms in public service will come to executives of various ranks.

President Roosevelt is to enjoy success in certain plans which are slowly to be uncovered, astrologers prophesy. He will meet great problems that require extreme diplomacy.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the anxiety of a year of prosperity and happiness. Subjects of this sign usually attain success through special talents.

Ernest K. Lindley, journalist, was born on this day, 1892. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Owen Winter, novelist, 1900.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—Is there any cure for a nagging, fussing woman who is living under the best social, moral and family conditions imaginable, but who is wrecking her husband, her children and her home by her never-ending fault-finding and criticism? She has a faithful and devoted husband, two lovely children, a beautiful home, her own car, servants, ample money and perfect physical health. She is educated, attractive and pleasant and agreeable to every one but her own family. The home might be a heaven on earth, but she turns it into a hell with her nagging. Is there no help for such a situation?

READER.

Answer: Not much, I fear. Nothing short of a miracle can change a nagger, and miracles don't happen very often these days. Before a woman can be cured of a vice she must ardently desire to be cured. She must recognize her weakness and deplore it and with her whole heart desire to change, and you can never get this co-operation from the nagger because she never admits to being one. The drunkard will confess that he is the victim of his love of liquor. The dope fiend will admit he is a drug addict. But the nagger will deny to the bitter end that she nags.

More than that, the nagger accounts her nagging unto herself for righteousness. She justifies herself by saying that she tells you of your faults for your own good, and that the reason she keeps after you, hammer and tongs, all the time is because you don't listen to her and do exactly as she says, for she is always certain that she is right and every one else is wrong. So she tells you where to get on and where to get off; how to sit and stand and eat; and reminds you of all your little weaknesses and peculiarities and criticizes everything you do until she drives you mad.

I am thinking as I write these lines of a woman I know who is married to man who is a saint on earth if there ever was one, but who has apparently never done one single thing that met with her approval in all the 40 years they have been married. No matter what he does she finds fault with him.

He is a successful business man whose judgment is highly esteemed in the outside world, but she criticizes the way he manages his affairs, nags him about his partners, his stenographers, his salesmen and doesn't conceal her opinion that he is a fool. He never eats a meal in peace because she nags him about every mouthful, and the way he butters his bread and how much coffee he drinks.

She nags him about the way he has his hair cut, his clothes, the club he belongs to, and his friends and his affection for his own family. You wonder that in some moment of super-exasperation he doesn't murder her, and you feel that if you were on the jury that tried him you would bring in a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Now the strange thing is that this woman who ruins her husband's life and makes him perfectly miserable really does love him and doesn't know that she is spoiling everything with her nagging. Her fault-finding has just become a habit and it is a pity that she can't be made to realize this by having something thrown at her head every time she starts on a criticism or a don't-do-that.

I once heard of a man who cured his wife of the nagging habit by keeping a stenographer with her for three days who took down every word she said. When the verbatim report of her nagging was shown to the wife she was horrified and never again indulged herself in her favorite indoor occupation of finding fault with her family.

DEAR MISS DIX—How can one heal a broken heart? For three years I went with a boy. I gave up all my other dates for him and now he has got tired of me and given me the air. I am alone, unhappy and want to die. How can I start all over making friends and getting in the crowd again? I am 22.

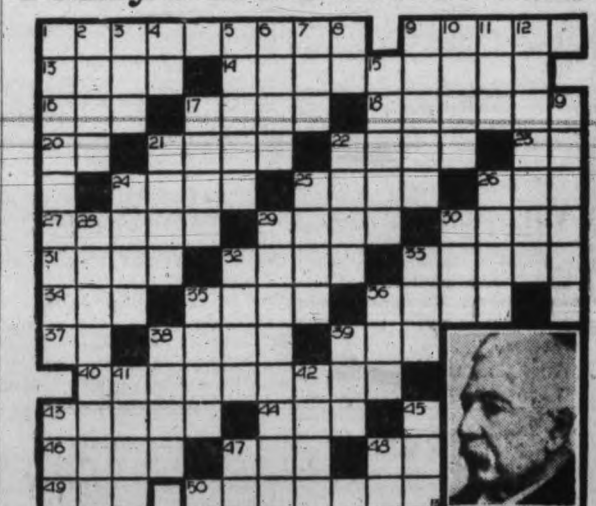

BROKEN-HEARTED.

Answer: Well, the first thing to do is to quit being broken-hearted, which you are not really, you know. It is not your heart that is hurt, it is your pride. You are humiliated by having the Boy Friend walk out on you, and it was a caddish thing for him to do. In such a case a gentleman always lets the lady save her face by taking the initiative in the break-away.

DOROTHY DIX.

Girl Describes Pacific Odyssey

Eileen Morris, Cook and Navigator of Te Rapunga, Wants to Go On

"If ever I read books about voyages like this—and I did read them—I used to feel a bit envious, but I never imagined myself doing anything of the sort. Then the skipper came out from Germany with his nephew, and the nephew got married in New Zealand. I met the skipper, and he asked me if I wanted to go the rest of the voyage, I did."

That is the simple way in which Eileen Morris, tall, dark-haired New Zealand girl, explains how she became the third member of the crew of the ketch Te Rapunga, now in port after a 55,000-mile seven-year Odyssey of which she saw the last two years.

The skipper is George Dibbern, German-born and New Zealander by adoption, who brought the ketch out from its home port of Kiel. The other member of the crew is Roy Murdoch, the mate.

Interviewed this morning at the home of Harry T. Barnes, former commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, where she is staying at present, Miss Morris elaborated on the story of her journey which was her first contact with sailing and her first trip outside her native New Zealand.

"I had never sailed before. I came along because I thought I would like it—and I did," she said. "If you have the right sort of temperament it appeals to you."

COOKS AND NAVIGATES

Technically Miss Morris is known as the Te Rapunga's brass boy. She is entered on the ship's papers as cook and deckhand. Actually she takes her two watches a day, does a lot of the navigation, and cooks the midday meal.

She learned navigation in Tahiti from a Pole who later sailed a 24-foot boat alone from Samoa to New Zealand by way of Samoa. She admits this little cockle of a ship made the Te Rapunga, 32 feet long, seem quite palatial.

The Te Rapunga has a tiny cabin and a little cubby-hole which serves as Miss Morris's stateroom. The space is so limited that most of her berth sticks out underneath the diminutive pantry.

"When I saw it first I couldn't believe it was the right ship... but it's amazing how you get used to it, and there seems to be quite a lot of room," she said.

The Te Rapunga stopped for a whole year in Honolulu. Miss Morris spent six months of the time going back to New Zealand to visit her family. "The skipper spent the time writing a book... The thought of writing one makes me tired," but she admitted she has been writing articles for a weekly paper in New Zealand.

Miss Morris is perfectly content to go on for a long time yet cruising around the world in the little ketch. Asked if she had ever thought of marriage, she answered simply "No." She is never homesick.

"The place I'm in at the time is home for me," she said.

To a question as to how much longer she planned to continue her nautical life, she answered, "A good many years yet. . . . Don't hurry us."

HAS BUSY DAY

This is how Miss Morris spends her day at sea:

She takes the dog watch from midnight to 4 in the morning, when she is relieved by the skipper. She gets his tea, then sleeps from about 5 to 10:30. When she gets up she tidies up the ketch's inside accommodation and gets the midday meal ready. At noon she shoots the sun for latitude. She eats with the other members of the crew and does the washing up. Then she goes on watch again until about 3:30, when she takes sights to determine the ship's longitude. She gets afternoon tea about 5, after which she has her only three free hours of the day. She sleeps from 8 to 12 before taking over the dog watch again.

The ketch's galley boasts two pressure oil cookers, mounted in gimbal so they stay upright, a couple of lockers and a sink. "It isn't cooking in a rough sea—it's juggling," says Miss Morris.

FOOD PROBLEM

The stable foods of the trio are potatoes, onions and dried bread. This last is ordinary bread cut in slices and then put back in the baker's oven. Put away in airtight tins it keeps for as much as a year, and tastes something like toast.

They eat fresh bread and vegetables as long as the supply lasts, then fall back on canned goods and rice.

Victoria strikes Miss Morris as rather a cold place.

"We are still a bit tropical," she explains. She has not been in swimming here, and does not like the idea of the cold sea water. She was surprised to learn the lakes were warmer than the sea.

"In New Zealand the rivers come down into the lakes from the mountains, and the sea is much warmer," she said.

The crew does not do much swimming out in the ocean either, she said. "If you drag astern on a line a shark is liable to take a fancy to you. You can hang on to the stays forward, but it's not very pleasant. I don't enjoy it in the least. I'm always afraid someone's going to nab me. Besides if you leave salt on your skin for a long time it doesn't do it any good," she said.

As a parting shot Miss Morris said: "And remember it's a ketch and not a yawl in spite of what everyone calls it."

The Te Rapunga will move from the Enterprise Wharf around to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club later this week. Soon it will be leaving for Vancouver, possibly Seattle, and then down the coast to Los Angeles, the trio will take it back across to Honolulu. After that, "That's much too far to look ahead," says Miss Morris.

RADIO LINK FOR Y CAMP

Boys in Sooke Hills Have Shortwave Hook-up With City

Off to spend a week at Glinz Lake, in the Sooke Hills, 40 youngsters, ranging from 12 to 17 years of age, in charge of Vivian Shoemaker, left for the Y.M.C.A. Camp Thunderbird yesterday evening.

Largest in the history of the Y.M.C.A., the total registration for the camp during the three weeks' session is expected to be 123. The second group of lads will leave the city in a week's time. They will stay in camp until July 27, when a third contingent will go out.

A short wave radio set, under the operation of Ellison Queale, by means of which the campers will have regular communication with their parents and friends, is installed at the camp. Parents wishing to get in touch with their boys may phone messages into the Y.M.C.A., from which point they will be transmitted every morning and evening by short wave radio operators in the city to Camp Thunderbird.

The camp apparatus will be used also in demonstration talks on radio technique by Doyle McKim. Through the courtesy of the children's department of the Public Library a fine selection of volumes relating to the many subjects the boys will be in contact with has been sent to the camp.

The fire department fought a bush fire for an hour and a half at Finlayson Point, Beacon Hill, today before bringing it under control. The alarm was turned in at 12:10.

The Vancouver Island Bookkeepers' Association will hold a meeting this evening in the home of G. E. Weismiller, 706 Craigflower Road. Important business is listed for consideration.

The teachers attending the summer school have been invited to attend the film, "Captains Courageous," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, as the guests of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation. They will attend the presentation of the film this afternoon, tomorrow or Thursday afternoons.

Texaco Head Visitor Here

Business in the east has shown great recovery, but it is still not as good as it should be, in the opinion of W. S. S. Rodgers, president of the Texas Oil Company.

Mr. Rodgers arrived at the Empress Hotel yesterday by car from his home in New York for a two-day stay. It is his first visit to Victoria, and he says he likes the city and Vancouver Island "very much indeed."

Mr. Rodgers is combining business with pleasure on his trip. His company, the producer of Texaco fuel, has widely scattered holdings in the United States and western Canada. It does business in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Altogether the company exports its products to some 100 countries all over the world, said Mr. Rodgers.

MANY COMING FOR PARADES

Miles of Serpentine to Be Distributed at Holiday Events Here

"We want the people of Victoria to realize that the anniversary celebrations are their own celebrations," Norman Foster, general secretary of the parade committees, said this morning.

"Our parades on August 4 and 7 are being advertised extensively all down the coast. Hardly a newspaper has not commented on our celebrations. All indications are that a large number of visitors will pour into Victoria during the first weeks of August to see the parades."

"Among the many novel ideas the Junior Chamber of Commerce is trying to put over is that sufficient serpentine paper will be distributed during the parades to stretch three times around Vancouver Island, according to the computations of those in charge—in all, 600,000 streamers."

"Several other ideas are being worked on and we hope that all who are fortunate enough to see the parades will never forget the good time they had."

The young businessmen who form the various parade committees, are working hard. This morning a crew of 30 members was making local concerns familiar with the classes for entries.

"MUTT AND JEFF"

The team of oxen which recently paraded around town advertising the parades have entered their names, "Mutt and Jeff" in the pre-war vehicle section.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is seeking a large number of entries in the sections for comic bands, decorated bicycles, and children and adults in fancy dress, forming part of the illuminated night parade August 7.

YELLOW LINE RULE CLEARED

Not Violation to Pass On Straight Stretches, Say B.C. Police Officials

For the benefit of many local motorists who have been confused by the extension of yellow lines on the Island Highway during past months, traffic officials of the B.C. Police this morning explained the observation of the yellow line rule as required by the Highway Act.

Contrary to the general impression among motorists they said it was not against the law for cars to pass on a straight stretch where there is a yellow line. The only time that passing cars is prohibited is on a curve where the line has been painted.

The extension of the yellow lines has been undertaken by the Department of Public Works to serve chiefly as a reminder to motorists of the location of the centre of the road. Most drivers were under the impression they were not allowed to pass anywhere within the line.

In carrying out this plan the department is working towards the dividing of the roads into lanes, similar to those on United States highways. The plan can only progress as the roads are widened however.

ACTION URGED

The action has also been the result of numerous recommendations of coroner's juries investigating traffic fatalities. These have urged the painting of yellow lines to serve as guides on all portions of the highways.

While it is generally permissible to pass on straight stretches where there is a line, it was pointed out that this was only the case when conditions were favorable. Traffic men said that prosecutions would be continued in instances where motorists persisted in passing in bad weather or congested traffic. Care must also be exercised in watching the speed in such instances, they said.

MARKET NOTES

Egg prices advanced this morning to 25, 27 and 25 cents a dozen on the wholesale market. The increase of 2 cents a dozen was the second this week.

A shipments of 1,100 stems of bananas reached here today. The first shipment of Transparent apples this season, from Washington was received yesterday afternoon.

The lemon market is firm, due to hot weather in the east, and prices may rise soon. Australian lemons and oranges are selling well here.

Preserving apricots are now on the market, and the first Okanagan apricots will be shipped in a few days. Prices of hothouse tomatoes and cucumbers have been reduced this week.

The gooseberry crop is being rapidly cleaned up. Only shipments from the west coast, ten days apart, are obtainable.

Local Bing cherries are plentiful.

Theft of four B.S.A. rifles and 500 rounds of ammunition from the quarters of the Rainbow Sea Cadets at the Outer Wharf over the week-end was reported to city police yesterday. A pane of glass was removed from the window by the thieves. The police were also informed a quarter-inch electric drill was stolen from the Motor House (Victoria) Ltd. over the week-end. At Thetis Lake a woman's white golf wrist watch was reported stolen on Sunday.

A happier figure than Schumacher is the irrepressible Joe Medwick. That gashouse gangster, who leads the league in everything but triples, stolen bases and, of course, pitching, pounded out three more hits and drove in three more runs as the St. Louis Cardinals nosed out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6 to 5.

The Cubs' night game in Cincinnati was rained out, as were the Boston Bees-Dodgers date in Brooklyn and the only American League game scheduled, between the Cleveland Indians and White Sox at Chicago.

SEEDER STAR IS DEFEATED

George Chessum Out of Pacific Northwest Tennis in First Round

TACOMA—Collapse of the local star and the disorganized retreat of the seeding authorities featured the first round of play today in the annual Pacific Northwest Tennis Tournament here.

The tournament entries, consisting largely of touring Californians, arrived in force just in time to see George Chessum, Tacoma hope, seeded number one in the men's singles, fold up without a struggle before Francis Lewis of Seattle. Lewis took the first set easily, 6-3, then dropped the second, 4-6, when Chessum temporarily regained the form which gave him the seeded place, and finally finished off the match 6-3, as Chessum bounced his returns harmlessly in the alleys.

Patsy Canning of Alameda, winner of the Oregon women's title last week, won her first start in a walk, defeating Florence Schuyler of Tacoma, 6-0, 6-0, in a junior women's match. She is seeded number one in the division.

Lewis was to meet William Kennedy of San Francisco in the feature match of today's play, as doubles and additional singles divisions get under way. Only the men's, junior and junior women's divisions were started yesterday.

The fine performance of Hurdie, ace moundman for the Odd Fellows, was the feature of the game. He hurled great one-hit ball and breezed a dozen.

Holt, Hollywood Club hurler, was nicked for seven safeties, which, along with a number of costly errors on the part of the clubmen, enabled the winners to tally nine runs.

The second game of the series will be played tomorrow night at Victoria West Park at 6.15.

Score by innings:
Odd Fellows — 0 1 2 0 1 1 3 0 — 9
Hollywood — 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 — 0

Pinehill Lions defeated the Hollywood D team, 7 to 6, in the first game, but lost the second match to Victoria, 6 to 2.

The Palace Bakery team from Port Angeles will invade the city next Sunday. There will be morning and afternoon games. In the afternoon tussle Hollywood B team will meet the visitors at Bullen Park at 2.15. The same teams will battle in the morning, but the grounds have not been decided yet.

PROTEST WILL GO TO BUREAU

Esquimalt Council Nettle By Omission of Municipality From Folder

The Esquimalt Council will protest to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau against the omission of all mention of the municipality from a newly-completed pamphlet listing scenic drives around Greater Victoria.

"We have pride in our district, and we do resent very fully being left out of this map and folder," said Reeve Alexander Lockley, "Esquimalt is one of the oldest and historic places on the island."

The reeve spoke of "smallness on the part of the person or persons who are trying to do all they can to keep us out of the picture," and commented that the fact Esquimalt had made no contribution to the Publicity Bureau was not caused by any lack of appreciation for its work, but was through lack of funds.

Councillors spoke of the omission as "a black eye for Esquimalt."

It was moved by Councillor Thomas W. Platt and seconded by Councillor Neil Fraser that a letter of protest be sent to the bureau.

Come Ashore For Vacation

BOSTON—Meet the Cheney family, who live at sea and spend a two weeks' vacation every 14 months at their home on shore at Little River, N.S., 27 miles from Digby.

Mrs. Cheney is known along this seaboard as the only housekeeper of a schooner. Her husband is skipper of the lumber carrier Twilash and Rozell, now discharging cargo at the wharf.

Alta Cheney's manifold duties include reading the compass, tiding out ship and reigning supreme as cook in the galley.

Completing the family roster are her daughters, for whom the ship is named. Twilash is 15 years old and Rozell nine. The fifth inhabitant of the pilothouse is Teddy, mascot of the schooner, the Cheneys' pet dog.

The staunch vessel plies between Nova Scotia ports and Boston, bringing lumber to New England. For 18 years Mrs. Cheney has been keeping house on the schooner, ever since she married the captain.

ODD FELLOWS BALL VICTORS

Blank Hollywood Club 9 to 0 in Softball Play-off Fixture

POPULAR PAIR AT DOMINION

Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond in "There Goes My Girl"

Having established themselves as one of the most popular teams on the screen in light comedies, Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern have turned to a more dramatic vehicle in their new screen play, "There Goes My Girl," now at the Dominion.

Previously they have been teamed in "Hooray for Love," "The Smartest Girl in Town" and "Walking on Air," all light comedies, with some incidental music. Their current vehicle is a dramatic and thrilling story of rival newspaper reporters who fall in love but run into the opposition of the girl's hard-boiled city editor when they try to get married. His villainy creates intense crises. Both Raymond and Miss-Sothern are called on for brightly dramatic performances; there is no singing.

The supporting cast includes Joan Woodbury, Gordon Jones, Richard Lane, Frank Jenks, Bradley Page, Maxine Jennings, William Corson, Marla Shelton, Chester Clute and Charles Coleman.

COMES BACK HARD ROUTE

"Kid" Chocolate Has Made Wonderful Ring Return After Hitting Depths

NEW YORK—In 1930 the line, "Kid Chocolate Flights Tonight," meant a lot more. It does not mean much now except to the dusky kid. He is making a comeback and every painful step he takes along the way means something to him, a lot more than the ham and egg money he pulls down in the fight clubs that rim the big town.

Chocolate fights young Chapple (tonight at the Canarsie Stadium). It's the 23rd fight of his comeback and the attempt to regain his old standing is getting serious. He has won 21 comeback fights.

Kid Chocolate was somebody in 1929 and 1930. He hit the United States in 1928 after more than 100 fights in Cuba, and went to work in the featherweight and lightweight divisions. He lost only one American fight until Kid Berg, an English lightweight, beat him in August, 1930.

HIT THE SKIDS

He could not win the lightweight title that year, but he won the slightly heavier junior lightweight crown from Benny Bass in 1931. Then he fought Tony Canzonero, who was the lightweight champion, and Tony beat the Kid in 15 rounds. The Kid's luck started to run out.

A marriage by proxy to a Havana girl, 15 days in jail in the United States and the attentions of the "party" boys and girls of Harlem complicated his ring career.

He finally won the featherweight title from Lou Feldman and beat a lot of other fellows like Pete Nebo and Johnny Farr. Finally the immigration authorities deported him. He returned, but Frankie Kilek beat him and Canzonero knocked him out.

In Cuba at 28, broke, sick and friendless he started his comeback last year. Now he is at least on the steps of the rings he once starred in.

LANGFORD

The annual school meeting held Saturday evening in the schoolhouse, E. F. LeQueune being elected chairman. P. A. Moir, secretary of the local school board, read a letter from S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, explaining the method of voting for trustees and assessments.

T. Norman was elected a trustee, replacing Mr. Moir. H. A. Hincks was re-elected auditor.

The Esquimalt Council last night tabled for further consideration a letter from the Ex-servicemen's League in Canada asking support for a campaign to have the care of unemployed veterans made a federal charge.

Since introduction of mechanical power and machinery to farms, an American agricultural worker is able to care for three times as many acres of crops as he could 75 years ago.

FOSSILS SEEN BY GOVERNOR

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir Visit Dinosaur Spot in Alberta

DRUMHELLER, Alta. — The Governor-General's party today went from here to see a fossil dinosaur skeleton in the rocks near a farm where the late Louis Brierley, famous French aviator and first man to fly the English Channel, lived nearly twenty years ago with his brother, Andrew, a rancher.

Lord Tweedsmuir and his retinue traveled by automobile over a road built especially for their trip by 60 men from a camp for unmarried unemployed.

At the site of the dinosaur's skeleton exposure, near Brierley's farm and about 10 miles from this coal mining city, the relief workers had cut steps 40 feet up a steep hillside and levelled a platform where they party was able to stand without danger of slipping from the treacherous, weather-beaten sandstone which in wet weather becomes as unstable as soap.

From the platform they saw about 13 feet of the backbone of one of the giant reptiles that roamed this country 60,000,000 years ago when the land was covered with water, giant redwood trees and rank vegetation, some of which forms the coal seams that run like thick black lines across the faces of the buttes that surround the valley.

Besides part of the backbone the pelvic arch and most of the hind legs are visible, as well as a number of ribs.

Two U.S. Steel Plants Reopen

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. — Idle for 46 days, steel workers marched peacefully through gates of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company plants here and at South Chicago to resume production at the last of the strikebound Calumet district mills.

The gates were marked with large notices that "this plant is open for work on the conditions which existed when work was stopped on May 26."

The signs, bearing the name of J. E. Daily, manager of the Chicago district for Youngstown, added: "We have not made any agreement or contract with any official person or organization."

R. S. Foster, assistant to Daily, said almost 2,500 were back at the Indiana Harbor mill at 8.30 this morning. The normal day force, he said, was 3,000.

Patrols of railroad and city police watched over the throng.

The reopening was heralded as a victory by the rival factions in the bitter steel dispute that at one time affected 73,000 workers in seven states and in which 15 persons lost their lives.

The Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, C.I.O. group which called the strike, characterized resumption of work a victory for its cause, but the Association of Steel Employees, an independent union, and the company disputed this.

Girl Is Found Safe in Wilds

ATHABASCA, Alta. — Missing from her home near here since Monday morning, three-year-old Mary Washuk was found alive and unharmed by a search party today after an all-night hunt — and while Dale of Cawassa, famous Royal Canadian Mounted Police dog, with nose to ground, was heading unerringly in her direction from a short distance away.

The child was found sleeping less than 15 feet from a deep slough in which, searchers and police said, she surely would have drowned had she tumbled a little farther in the darkness.

The girl was suffering from exposure, but otherwise was unharmed.

Train Kills Child On Toronto Trestle

TORONTO — Trapped on a Canadian Pacific Railway bridge by the Montreal Flyer Monday evening, one Toronto girl was killed and another escaped with minor injuries. Betty Louise Wells, aged seven, was dead when picked up from the bank of the Don River, where she was thrown from the trestle.

The other girl, Eileen Duggan, also seven, was struck by the locomotive and hurled forward and across the tracks, but the train was stopped within a few feet of where she lay without hitting her a second time.

The children had been crossing the trestle.

Prices Lower In Listless Trading

On Wall St. Today

STOCKS DRIFT AT MONTREAL

NEW YORK (AP) — Traders dragged down some of their profits in today's stock market and price trends generally pointed lower.

Early losses of fractions to 2 points, however, were reduced or canceled in many instances before the close as bids for U.S. Steel and some other leaders were hoisted moderately.

Steel issues were up at a fairly active opening. They dipped later when motors began to slide and, despite the mild rally in the final hour, some were still under water at the finish.

Farm implements and specialties did better than the average. Utilities and rails lacked vitality. Transfers were around 850,000 shares.

"Big Steel" was again comparatively lively as gossip was revived in boardrooms that the corporation will shortly do some financing involving valuable rights to stockholders.

Packing Company issues such as Armour, Wilson and Swift received more than the usual attention on rumors of higher meat prices. John Morrell stock, however, was an exception in this group, falling back following yesterday's dividend omission.

(By H. A. Humber Ltd.) Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials—178.24, off 0.46.
20 rails—54.21, off 0.46.
20 utilities—27.77, off 0.33.
